- 1 Read Ramón's online guide to Madrid. Which places would you like to visit?

Fun in Madrid

Language Cities Countryside Culture Food People

Every year, thousands of tourists love visiting the wonderful Prado Museum, the Reina Sofia and the Royal Palace in Madrid. But there are also lots of exciting places for young people to have fun, too. Read my online guide to Madrid and find out.

The Parque de Atracciones
This is Madrid's main amusement park. There are lots of exciting rides, including a water ride and a roller coaster ride. There are also some great cafés and restaurants, street theatre and puppet shows, so you can spend the whole day here!

The Retiro Park
In Retiro Park, there's a lake where you can go out in a rowing boat. There are also free concerts, puppet shows and plays, as well as lots of places to eat. I often play football here with my friends and sometimes we ride our bikes through the park.

Santiago Bernabéu
Do you like football? One of my favourite places is the Real Madrid football stadium, the Santiago Bernabéu. You can go on a tour and visit the President's Box, the players' dressing room and the Trophy Room.

Madrid Zoo
Madrid Zoo has over 3,000 animals. My favourites are the giant pandas. There are only nine giant pandas in Europe, and two of them are in Madrid. I also love the dolphin show. It's amazing! Children can visit the animals in the Little Farm and you can eat in one of the zoo's cafés or restaurants.

I hope you visit Madrid soon!

1 Read the text about Ancient Egypt. What did people like to eat?

Life in Ancient Egypt

Ancient Egyptians lived near the River Nile. They usually lived in small villages and towns. Poor people lived in small houses with one or two rooms. Sometimes, two families lived in one small house. There weren't toilets or bathrooms in these houses, so they washed in the river. Rich people usually lived in big houses with a kitchen, a living room, a bathroom, bedrooms and a garden. Sometimes, there was also a fish pond or a pool. In these big houses, there was usually some furniture, such as beds, tables and chairs, but there wasn't much furniture because there weren't many trees.

Ancient Egyptians were farmers. They produced food from animals and crops. They liked to eat meat, fish, fruit, vegetables and bread, and they liked to drink wine. They loved pets, too. Their favourite pets were dogs, cats, birds and monkeys.

There weren't many schools in Ancient Egypt. Only boys from rich families learned to read and write. They walked to school. There weren't any buses or bicycles. The girls stayed at home and worked in the house or on the farm. They helped their mothers. They cooked the meals and they cleaned the houses. There weren't many roads in Ancient Egypt so people usually travelled in boats on the river, or they walked.

- 1 Read the article about Suzanne Lenglen, a famous French tennis player. How many times did she win the French Championships?

The Goddess of Tennis

Suzanne Lenglen was born in France, in 1899. She was often ill as a child, so her father told her to do lots of sport to become strong. In 1910, he gave her a tennis racket and then Suzanne played tennis all the time. Her father trained her.

When she was 15, she won her first big competition. Five years later, she won her first Wimbledon Championship. She played against Dorothea Chambers, the 40-year-old champion. Dorothea wore a long dress and a hat. Suzanne wore a short dress like a 1920s ballet dancer. People were very shocked because they could see her legs and arms, but Suzanne changed tennis fashion for ever.

Suzanne won Wimbledon every year from 1919 to 1925, but she didn't win it in 1924 because she was ill. She won two gold medals and a bronze medal at the 1920 Olympics. She also won the French Championships six times from 1920 to 1926. Then she decided to become a professional player, but she had to stop playing because she was often ill. Later, she opened a tennis school in Paris.

In 1938, she became very ill and died – she was just 39 years old. Suzanne was the first famous woman tennis player. People called her 'the Goddess of Tennis'. They loved watching her play. She was like a ballerina on the tennis court.

1 Read this blog about the Edinburgh Fringe. What can you see there?

The Edinburgh Fringe

Welcome to our blog! It's August and here we are at the amazing Edinburgh Fringe, part of the Edinburgh International Festival. We think the Edinburgh Fringe is the most exciting festival in the world. There's a huge selection of comedy, art, dance, theatre and music. It's on for three weeks every August, and this is our third year! We love it! We bought tickets for the big acts last week, when they went on sale. On Saturday, we're going to walk around the city. We're going to see lots of street theatre, circus acts, dancers and singers. On Saturday night, we're going to see a famous comedian, Chris Watson, at The Pleasance Theatre. It's going to be great!

We recommend ... You must see Miguel Vargas and his Flamenco Dance Theatre at the New Town Theatre. You're going to love it. Miguel Vargas is a wonderful flamenco dancer. He's from Venezuela, but he lives in Seville, in Spain. We saw him last year and he was amazing!

Tips

- You're going to do a lot of walking, so wear trainers. The weather can be windy, rainy, cold, cloudy, warm and sunny all in one day! So take an umbrella, a bottle of water and wear sunglasses.
- Some of the best comedy is in small cafés and restaurants in the city, and it's free.
- There are amazing fireworks every year. You can see them from Princes Street Gardens, so you don't need to buy tickets!

2 Read the sentences and circle T (true) or F (false). Correct the false sentences.

- 1 The writer and her friends like coming to the Edinburgh Fringe. T F
- 2 They bought tickets yesterday. T F
- 3 They don't want to walk around the city. T F
- 4 They're going to see lots of street theatre. T F
- 5 The weather in Edinburgh in August is always warm and sunny. T F
- 6 All comedy shows are in theatres. T F

3 Answer the questions.
